

sound of perpetual astonishment

limited supply recordings

© MARC NOLTE

nils grøndahl

Jeg har noget tilsvarende derhjemme

SOPA001 – SOPA - January 27

Nils Grøndahl is the violin- and sawplaying noise-maker from the hugely acclaimed band Under Byen. On stage easily singled out as the one to stir things up he brings his interest in producing those particular sounds with effectpedals, saw and violin into play on his own also. Throbbing bass sounds, ethereal violin, barely audible electronic jittering and a calm sea of roaring noise.

About the cd:

The music on this cd was originally released as the soundtrack for an art exhibition of paintings. But the 26 minute track stands on firm ground on its own. A truly exciting journey in sound where deep thundering noise, minimal electronics blend beautifully with violin. This re-release has remastered sound.